Report from Evelyn Hovenga, Chief Editor August 2009 - www.ejhi.net/

Background

Late 2006 CQU established the electronic Journal of Health Informatics (eJHI) with a large international editorial board. It was endorsed as the official journal by the Australian College of Health Informatics (ACHI) and the Health Informatics Society of Australia early 2007. ACHI took over its management following the closure of CQU's Health Informatics Research Group late 2007. The HISA Board agreed to share costs.

Activity statistics

A total of 113 new papers have been submitted to date. Most were from within Australia although a number of other countries were represented such as New Zealand, Phillipines, United States, Iran, Sweden, Japan, Malaysia, Norway, Canada, Greece, India, Germany, Rwanda, Ghana.

	2009 so far	2008
Total submissions	16	28
*Accept	5	15
Decline	5	12
Resubmit or not yet decided (in process)	6	1
Registered Users	2277 (497 new)	1780 (494 new)
Registered readers	2224 (489 new)	1735 (482 new)

* NB: An accepted paper may have had several review rounds before it was accepted.

 This is an underestimation as with special issues where guest editors decide to do the review outside the system, only those papers that are accepted in the end are imported into the journal system

Papers under Resubmit may have such high obstacles for being accepted that they effectively are a 'polite' decline.

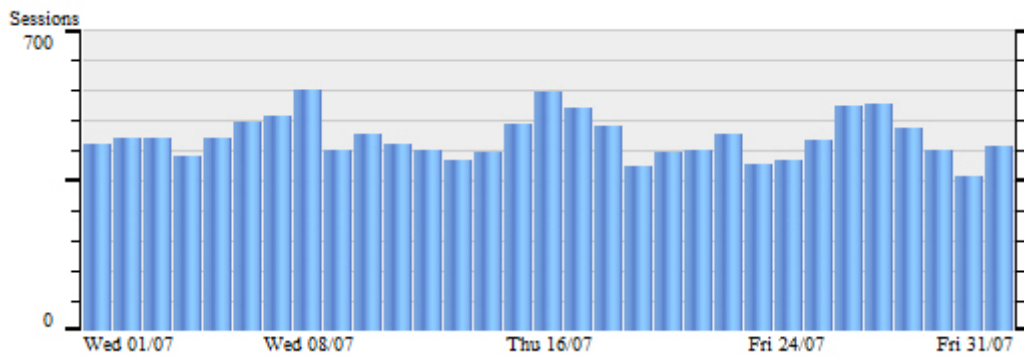

Note:

It is increasingly difficult to get reviewers to do their reviews.
